Bug killer is gift for next 3 Father's Days

Forget the ties, the cordless drills and the argyle sweaters – this year give dad the gift of a mosquito-free summer.

The new ALLCLEAR mister kills mosquitoes on contact and creates an invisible barrier of protection by atomizing a mist solution of water and botanical ALLCLEAR concentrate into the yard for three minutes. The use-ss bugs are re-killed for up to six hours in the 2,000-square-foot area where you want them gone. Now this is gonna cost you – the ALLCLEAR Mister is available for $499 at www.frontgate.com. A set of three 6.4-ounce bottles of ALL-

CLEAR Mosquito Mister Concentrate go for $89.50. Just tell dad it's his Father's Day gift ... for the next three years. For more information, visit www.allclearmister.com.

Ice cream at the ready with heated scoop

Why does the freezer randomly decide to bring frustration to our lives, going into hyperdrive and turning ice cream into a frozen rock of delicious yumminess that we can't even taste? Rather than microwaving the bin and causing your Peanut Butter Ripple to go goopy, we suggest the Aqua Heated Ice Cream Scoop. All you do is add a few ounces of warm tap water to the scoop and plunge in freely with the extra-long 7-inch handle. Available for $13.95 at www.greenfeet.com.

Live large with magnifying mirror

If you're stumped for a gift for any holiday or birthday, you can always turn to our trusty pals at SkyMall (www.skymall.com). The online and in-the-air retailer has a set of his and hers shower mirrors (8-inch and 6-inch, respectively) that feature push-button adjustable magnification that can make things appear up to five times their size (get your head out of the gutter). Both mirrors also boast fog-free performance, digital clocks and triple LED lights that illuminate only when the razor is removed from its holder. Did we choose this item because of the creepy picture? Guilty as charged. The set is available for $49.99 at www.skymall.com.
